

from 1820; D.D., 1850; vicar-general of Northampton, 1852. His fifty-four works include a defence of catholicism against Blanco White, 1820, missal and vesper books for the laity, notices of English colleges and convents after the dissolution, 1849, 'Emblems of Saints,' 1850 (ed. Jessopp, 1882), and a translation of the Vulgate based on the Douay and Rheinish versions. [xxviii. 320]

HUSK, WILLIAM HENRY (1814-1887), writer on music; librarian to Sacred Harmonic Society, 1853-82; published 'Account of Musical Celebrations on St. Cecilia's Day,' 1867; contributed to Grove's 'Dictionary'; edited 'Songs of the Nativity,' 1868. [xxviii. 321]

HUSKE, ELLIS (1700-1755), deputy postmaster-general in America; brother of John Huske [q. v.]; reputed author of 'Present State of North America,' 1755. [xxviii. 322]

HUSKE, JOHN (1692?-1761), general; aide-de-camp to Lord Cadogan in Holland; major-general for services at Dettingen, 1743; second in command at Falkirk, 1746; led second line at Culloden; lieutenant-general, 1747; in Flanders and Minorca; general, 1766; governor of Jersey, 1760. [xxviii. 322]

HUSKISSON, THOMAS (1784-1844), captain in the navy; half-brother of William Huskisson [q. v.]; present in the Defence at Trafalgar, 1805; signal-lieutenant to Gambier at Copenhagen, 1807; served in West Indies, attaining post-rank, 1811; paymaster of the navy, 1827-30. [xxviii. 323]

HUSKISSON, WILLIAM (1770-1830), statesman; privately educated at Paris; private secretary to Lord Gower, English ambassador at Paris; under-secretary at war, 1795; M.P., Morpeth, 1796-1802, Liskeard, 1804-7, Harwich, 1807-12, Chichester, 1812-23, and Liverpool, 1828-30; secretary to the treasury under Pitt, 1804-5, and Portland, 1807-9; resigned with Canning, 1809; supported Canning on the regency and other questions; published pamphlet on 'Depreciation of the Currency,' 1810; colonial agent for Caylon, 1811-23; privy councillor, 1814; minister of woods and forests under Liverpool, 1814; took frequent part in debates on corn-laws and (1816) bank restriction; member of finance committee, 1819; drafted report of committee on agricultural distress, 1821; defeated Londonderry's proposed relief loan, 1822, but his offer to resign refused by Liverpool; treasurer of the navy and president of board of trade, 1823-7; passed measures for regulating the silk manufactures and for removal of restrictions on Scotch linen industry; greatly reduced importation duties on sugar, foreign cotton, woollen goods, glass, paper, and other commodities, 1825; spoke effectively on shipping interest and silk trade; much attacked for his free trade tendencies; colonial secretary and leader of House of Commons under Goderich and Wellington, 1827-8; disagreed with Wellington on corn bill, and resigned on question of redistribution of the disfranchised seats at East Retford and Penryn, 1828; supported catholic emancipation, 1828, and additional representation for Leeds, Liverpool, and Manchester, 1829; gave much attention to Indian questions; killed by being run over at opening of Manchester and Liverpool railway. [xxviii. 323]

HUSSEY, BONAVENTURA (d. 1614). [See O'Hussey.]

HUSSEY, GILES (1710-1788), painter; studied under the Venetian, Vincenzo Damini, who while travelling with him decamped with his money; friend and pupil of Ercole Lelli at Rome, where he elaborated and illustrated his theory of beauty in nature, and drew chalk portraits of the Young Pretender; in England painted little. [xxviii. 328]

HUSSEY, SIR JOHN, BARON HUSSEY (1468?-1537), eldest son of Sir William Hussey [q. v.]; comptroller of Henry VII's household; employed diplomatically by Henry VIII; chief butler of England, 1621; summoned to House of Lords, 1529; chamberlain to Princess Mary, 1533; executed on charge of complicity in 'Pilgrimage of Grace.' [xxviii. 329]

HUSSEY, PHILIP (d. 1782), Irish portrait-painter. [xxviii. 330]

HUSSEY, RICHARD (1715?-1770), attorney-general to Queen Charlotte; barrister, Middle Temple, 1742; M.P., St. Mawes, 1761-8, East Looe, 1768-70; auditor of duchy of Cornwall, 1768; counsel to East India Company and admiralty; prominent debater. [xxviii. 330]

HUSSEY, ROBERT (1801-1856), first professor of ecclesiastical history at Oxford; king's scholar of Westminster; double-first from Christ Church, 1824; censor, 1835-42; M.A., 1827; B.D., 1837; professor of ecclesiastical history, 1842-56; edited Socrates, 1844, Evagrius, 1844; Bede, 1846, and Sozomen (published, 1860); established against William Cureton [q. v.] the accepted view as to Epistles of St. Ignatius, 1849; published also 'Rise of the Papal Power,' 1851. [xxviii. 330]

HUSSEY, THOMAS (1741-1803), Roman catholic bishop of Waterford and Lismore; after studying at the Irish college, Salamanca, entered La Trappe; chaplain to Spanish embassy and rector of Spanish church, London, 1767; undertook confidential political mission to Madrid; F.R.S., 1792; employed by ministers to check disaffection among Romanists in the public services in Ireland, 1794; president of Maynooth, 1795; bishop of Waterford and Lismore, 1795. [xxviii. 331]

HUSSEY, WALTER (1742-1783). [See BURGH, WALTER HUSSEY.]

HUSSEY or HUSE, SIR WILLIAM (d. 1495), chief-justice; as attorney-general conducted impeachment of Clarence; serjeant-at-law, 1478; chief-justice of king's bench, 1481-95; successfully protested against practice of consultation of judges by the crown. [xxviii. 332]

HUSTLER, JOHN (1715-1790), Bradford philanthropist; quaker and wool-stapler; projected Leeds and Liverpool Canal (opened 1777); advocated in pamphlets, 1782 and 1787, prohibition of export of wool. [xxviii. 332]

HUTCHESON, FRANCOIS, the elder (1694-1746), philosopher; educated in Ireland and at Glasgow; while keeping a private school in Dublin became acquainted with Lord Carteret, Archbishop King, and Edward Syngue; as professor of moral philosophy at Glasgow, 1729-46, greatly influenced 'common-sense' school of philosophy; upheld ethical principles of Shaftesbury against those of Hobbes and Mandeville; his 'System of Moral Philosophy' published by his son, 1755. [xxviii. 333]

HUTCHESON, FRANCOIS, the younger, also known as FRANCIS IRELAND (fl. 1745-1773), musical composer; only son of Francis Hutcheson the elder [q. v.]; M.A. Trinity College, Dublin, 1748; M.D., 1762; composed part-songs. [xxviii. 334]

HUTCHESON, GEORGE (1680?-1639), joint-founder of Hutcheson's Hospital, Glasgow. [xxviii. 335]

HUTCHESON, THOMAS (1589-1641), joint-founder with his brother George Hutcheson [q. v.] of Hutcheson's Hospital, Glasgow; keeper of register of sasines, Glasgow. [xxviii. 335]

HUTCHINS, EDWARD (1558?-1629), canon of Salisbury, 1589; fellow of Brasenose College, Oxford, 1581; M.A., 1581; B.D., 1590. [xxviii. 335]

HUTCHINS, SIR GEORGE (d. 1705), king's serjeant; barrister, Gray's Inn, 1667; serjeant-at-law, 1686; king's serjeant, 1689; knighted, 1689; third commissioner of great seal, 1690-3. [xxviii. 335]

HUTCHINS, JOHN (1698-1773), historian of Dorset; B.A. Balliol College, Oxford, 1722; M.A. Cambridge, 1730; held livings in Dorset; two volumes of his history of Dorset issued, 1774; second edition partially destroyed by fire, 1808; two further volumes, edited by Gough, 1813 and 1815. [xxviii. 336]

HUTCHINSON, BARON. [See HELY-HUTCHINSON, JOHN, afterwards second EARL OF DONOUGHMORE, 1757-1832.]

HUTCHINSON, Mrs. ANNE (1590?-1643), preacher; née Marbury; followed John Cotton to Massachusetts, 1634; formed an antinomian sect; condemned by ecclesiastical synod, 1637, and banished; settled in Aquidneck (Rhode Island), 1638; after death of husband moved to Hell Gate, New York county; murdered there by Indians. [xxviii. 337]

HUTCHINSON, CHRISTOPHER HELY- (1767-1826). [See HELY-HUTCHINSON.]

HUTCHINSON, EDWARD (1613-1675), settler in Massachusetts, son of Mrs. Anne Hutchinson [q. v.]; murdered while negotiating with Nipmuck Indians. [xxviii. 337]

Dictionary of National Biography, Volumes 1-20, 22 for Edward Hutchinson

Record Index

Name: Edward Hutchinson
Birth Date: 1613
Death Date: 1675
Mother's Name: Anne Hutchinson

Source Information

Record Url: <http://search.ancestry.com/cgi-bin/sse.dll?indiv=1&db=DictNatBiogV1&h=93260>

Source Information: Ancestry.com. Dictionary of National Biography, Volumes 1-20, 22 [database on-line]. Provo, UT, USA: Ancestry.com Operations, Inc., 2010. This collection was indexed by Ancestry World Archives Project contributors.
Original data: Stephen, Sir Leslie, ed. Dictionary of National Biography, 1921-1922. Volumes 1-20, 22. London, England: Oxford University Press, 1921-1922.